

Hi Helen,

November is an ideal time to book flu vaccinations on behalf of your employees. It is before the peak of the flu season and will ensure they are protected as we move into the winter months.

In 2023, our employee vaccination service makes it even easier for you to buy their vaccination vouchers online. These can then be redeemed by employees at Boots stores nationwide.

You can review further information and register your interest via the link below:

A note worth pointing out this year, is that anyone aged up to 64 is not eligible for a free vaccination*.

Many thanks for your time.
